Rush County Business Men's Association May File 200 to Collect From "Dead Beats"

NOTICES TO SUE SENT OUT

Intention is to Get Judgment and Offer Them at Private Sale and Then at Auction

Debtors of the Rush County Business Men's Association, especially those of the "dead beat" class, will find the going a little hard here from now on as the association will file suits on account against this class of people. In fact, one suit has already been filed and it was announced today that 200 more were to be filed.

The suit filed today was against Henry Richardson, colored. The suit was filed in the court of Squire Kratzer and the plaintiffs in the action are all of the members of the credit exchange, known as the Rush County Business Men's association. This particular suit against Richardson, alleges that he owes the John Morris hardware firm $8. The account is about three years old and with interest at six per cent the total demanded is brought up to $9.44.

It is the intention of the credit exchange to secure judgment against every one of these two hundred persons, then offer the judgments for sale at private sale for thirty days. Then, if the judgments are not sold, will be offered at public sale under the hammer on the downtown streets of the city. Before the rest of these suits are filed the debtors will be sent notices giving them time to pay the debts and thus avoid the litigation.

All of this, it is expected, will not take well with the debtors of this articular class. But the merchants declare they are driven to this action. Every effort has been made to collect these bad debts and the debtors have not paid the slightest attention. The merchants have no intention of harassing the debtor who is making an honest effort to pay. They are not organized to distress or embarrass the person who is honest and intends to pay, even though he is cramped and can make no great headway. The suits and efforts are directed first at that class known as the "dead beat."

The merchants are out to collect from this class, or else to punish them and to hold them up to view, and make it impossible for them to get credit anywhere.

A similar plan has been tried in Connorsville. Last week some two hundred suits of this character were filed there, and the merchants state that they have already benefited thereby. It is pointed out that no matter what other faults a "dead beat" may have, he hates publicity.

TRIES TO TAKE HER LIFE

Mrs. Burg Miller of Near Clarksburg Swallows Arsenic.

Mrs. Burg Miller, residing on the Luther Hamilton farm, near Clarksburg attempted suicide yesterday by swallowing a quantity of arsenic. Despondency is said to have been the cause of her act. She was found a short time after taking the poison and a physician was called. She was improved today and it is believed will suffer no ill effects from the drug. Neighbors assert that she has been despondent for some time, probably due to some slight domestic difficulty and ill health.

PROGRAM FOR BAND CONCERT ARRANGED

One of Feature Pieces for Wednesday Night's Appearance is a Descriptive Number

FIRST CONCERT IN TWO WEEKS

*The regular Wednesday night band concert will be given tomorrow evening on the court house square. An attractive program has been arranged. No band concert was given last week on account of the chautauqua. One of the feature pieces arranged is a descriptive number entitled "The Haunted House." The number opens with the approach of midnight, followed by the moaning of the wind. The clock then strikes twelve, rousing the ghost. The ghosts assemble amidst the rattling of chains, following which comes a ghost dance. This is followed by the arrival of the king ghost and the grave scene. Morning then approaches, the rooster crows and the ghosts disappear. The program follows:

March—"More Fraternity."
Overture—"La Petite Brunette."
Waltz—"Danube Waves."
"Haunted House"—Descriptive.
"Poppy Time in Old Japan."
Comic Overture—"Lustspiel."
"My Little Dream Girl."
March—"Colonial Queen."

RUSHVILLE IS WITHOUT PREACHERS

Happened Today That all Were Out of the City, Majority Being on Vacations

NO SERMONS ON NEXT SUNDAY

Rushville probably came as near being without preachers today as ever in the history of the city. In fact, all of the ministers residing here were out of the city and it is stated there will be no preaching Sunday in any of the churches. The regular Sunday school will be conducted and perhaps laymen will address the congregations, but the preachers are all gone.

The Rev. S. G. Huntington is attending the Baptist association conference near Rays Crossing. The Rev. John Aiken, pastor of the United Presbyterian church, is spending a vacation in Pennsylvania. The Rev. D. Ira Lambert is visiting in Charleston, W. Va., and the Rev. C. M. Yocum is in Stubenville, Ohio. The Rev. W. M. Whitsitt, pastor of St. Paul's M. E. church, is taking his vacation at Winona Lake.

MANAGES TO GET INTO WAR ZONE

Mrs. Theresa Conover Writes of Her Experience in Venice Where She Went From Paris

PARENTS GET TWO LETTERS

Glass Dome of Rotunda of Hotel Where She Was Stopping is Broken by Enemy Shells

The Rev. and Mrs. Daniel Ryan have received two interesting letters of late from their daughter, Mrs. Theresa Conover, who is now in the very heart of the war zone—Venice—where war scenes are common. One letter was written on arrival at Venice and the other at Paris just before departing. The two letters are very entertaining and are as follows:

Venice, July 19.
Here we are in this wonderful city. As it is really in the war zone, we had much trouble in getting permission to enter and then for four days only. I was most heart broken, but some friends appealed to the admiral and we got fifteen days.

It has been so wonderful. No lights at night but the moon and everywhere soldiers and the navy officers in their white uniforms only add to the beauty of it all. We have had two bombardments since I came. The first one hit the glass dome of the rotunda of our hotel and came through and rolled at my feet in spite of the fact that I am neutral.

It was a wonderful thing and I would not have missed this visit for all that might come in the future. They brought one aeroplane down with two men—killed, of course. The guns can be heard so distinctly this morning and yet I have to hear it all.

This card shows them removing one of the three great bronze horses from St. Mark's church just for protection from bombs. I hope you are all well. We go to Switzerland and back to Paris about the first of August. Don't know just when I shall start home. Hope all are well.

Paris, July 1.
Jack's letter came yesterday with Col. Gowdy's letter enclosed. Thank you very much. This is a beautiful day and I am writing in a little garden connected with the hotel. Was awakened this morning by the whirr of a motor in the skies and jumped out of bed to see several airships passing by. The sound of the guns at the front could be plainly heard, but a tiny bird in the garden at my window was singing as loudly as its little throat would permit as if to drown all sounds of war.

We are living just a few doors to the right of this arch (it is shown on the card on which she wrote) and it will be a wonderful sight when the victorious army comes marching through it again. I should like to be here.

The news is splendid today. Victory for the allies—the Russians and Italians. I am studying French every day and my teacher comes every day with a smile on her face, though it is now two weeks since she heard from her only child, a boy of twenty who is just at the front. That is France, smiling though her heart is breaking.

It's really wonderful to be here just now. The matter of passports seems to take an endless time here so I don't know when we shall get away. I have gotten a special permit from our consul to enter Venice and as that is really in the war zone, they are much more careful and it takes longer.

OUTLINES FOR 7 INSTITUTES

Booklet is Received by County Superintendent, Calling for Township Teachers School

ALSO FOR CITY INSTITUTES

There Will be Nine of the Latter During the Year—Committee to Report Provided For

The township and city institute booklet, giving the outlines for the institutes to be held during the coming school year, has been received by C. M. George, county superintendent of schools, and shows that there will be seven townships and nine city institutes.

The dates for the institutes will be announced at the preliminary institute for all township teachers which will be held in the court house assembly room Saturday, September 9. The township institutes will be held the same places as last year.

The teachers of Orange, Anderson and Richland townships will meet at Milroy. Those of Walker will alternate between Homer and Manilla. The teachers of Posey, Rushville and Noble townships will hold their institute in the teachers' examination room of the court house and those of Union, Ripley and Jackson will meet at the same place on a different Saturday. Those of Center and Washington will alternate between Mays and Raleigh.

Through an oversight in the law the teachers of the schools in incorporated towns do not have to attend institute. The law will probably be amended at the next session of the legislature. The new law just became effective at the beginning of the last school year. It was the first time the city teachers ever had to attend institute.

In the institute booklet the state superintendent, Charles A. Great-house, asks the county superintendent to appoint one teacher from each township to compose a committee which shall report at the close of the school year a summary of certain points on the township institutes of the county. Each city superintendent is asked to furnish the same summary for the city institutes.

ADOPTS SOME NEW TACTICS IN SPEECH

Candidate Hughes Uses Personal Pronoun Frequently in Speech at Tacoma, Wash.

GETS BEST RECEPTION YET

Tacoma, Wash., August 15.—Republican Presidential Candidate Charles E. Hughes adopted new campaign tactics here today. Choosing inefficiency as his battering ram in the assault against the Democratic party, the Republican candidate began to use the personal pronoun in pledges and promises.

"If you elect me to an executive office," he told an audience here today, "I promise to use my full executive influence."

The candidate also switched from an address entirely devoted to the Republican party to one in which he put forward his own personal claims. The result was that Hughes received as great an ovation here as anywhere on the trip.

PRaises THE CHAUTAUQUA

Manager of Zedlers Says It's Best They Ever Visited

The Zedler Symphonic Sextette, before departing from Rushville Sunday night after two days' engagement at the chautauqua, had nothing but the highest praise for Rushville. The leader of the organization said that the Rush county chautauqua had better order, better quarters, a better spirit and more appreciative audiences than any assembly the Zedlers had visited. He also declared that the talent was treated better than at any place they had ever been.

DUGAN FINED $25 ON PLEA OF GUILTY

Also Sentenced to Thirty Days in Jail But it is Withheld Pending Good Behavior

DUGAN TAKES AN APPEAL

William Dugan was fined $25 and costs and sentenced to jail for 30 days this morning when he entered a plea of guilty to the charge of assault and battery on Mrs. Charles Moore. The jail sentence was suspended by Mayor Bebout. Dugan was found not guilty on the three other charges, which included the case tried Monday. An appeal was taken to the circuit court. There was some question as to whether he had a right to appeal from a plea of guilty, but Mayor Bebout decided that this could be settled in the circuit court. The appeal bond was placed at $100 which was readily given by Dugan.

Mayor Bebout, in pronouncing sentence reviewed the evidence in the cases, and while he criticized Mrs. Moore for being too hasty in hunting trouble with Dugan, stated that this did not excuse Dugan from committing assault. The sentence was severe because the prosecuting witness was a woman. The Dugan and Moore families are neighbors but there is a feud existing and the court urged all of the parties to attend to their own business and avoid getting into court.

REST OF MILITIA NOT TO BE MOVED

Order Postponing Transfer to Border Postponed Because of Threatened Strike

SUPPLIES SHORT, IT IS SAID

(By United Press.)
Washington, August 15.—Because of the threatened railroad strike the war department today suspended indefinitely the proposed movement to the border of between 25,000 and 35,000 mobilized militia in state camps, ordered to the Mexican line last week.

The reason for suspending the order is a possible shortage of supplies and difficulty of obtaining transportation for the men. It has no connection, it is said, with possible use of the troops during the present strike.

BURDEN RESTS WITH EMPLOYES

If There Are Any Concessions to be Made, They Must Make Them, It Now Appears.

MANAGERS ACCEPT 8-HR. DAY

They Demand, However, That Subject of Overtime Pay be Subjected to Investigation.

(By United Press.)
Washington, August 15.—The burden of concessions in bringing about an adjustment of the threatened railroad strike appeared to have swung around from the railroads to the employees today.

After the railroad managers had been in the white house for more than an hour and a half it was learned they had agreed to accept the basic principles of the eight-hour day but they demand that the question of overtime pay be subjected to a more far reaching investigation.

At the conclusion of the conference with the managers, President Wilson authorized the following statement:

"The president spent an hour and a half this morning with the representatives of the railroad managers. After the conference he said it was impossible as yet to report the result; all that he could say was that a very candid and honest discussion was in progress about the practicable basis of settlement."

The conference of the managers ended at 10.40. They would not make any statement on leaving. It was announced the president would see the employees at three o'clock this afternoon.

The investigation of the application of the shorter day principle to the railway operation, as presented to the president today, would be made through a board appointed by the president, it is understood. In accepting the basic principle of the 8-hour day the railroads go on the belief that neither the president or the employees would expect the 8-hour day to be put into effect until the whole subject has been inquired into and a working agreement has been arranged.

In some respects it might be regarded as a step forward in the negotiations. The employees are not favorable to an out-and-out 8-hour day, their day to end at the conclusion of that period. The question of whether they would yield on the point of delaying actual application of the new program until it has been subjected to thorough investigation remains to be seen.

SHIP SINKS AND 300 OF CREW DROWN

Italian Battleship Turns Over and Goes Down After Several Explosions

BLAZE STARTS IN KITCHEN

(By United Press.)
Paris, August 15.—The Italian battleship Leonardo de Vinci caught fire and after several explosions turned over and sunk in the harbor of Tarento, according to a dispatch to the Petit Journal today. About 300 of her crew were drowned. One of the ship's magazines exploded while efforts were being made to beach her. The blaze is thought to have started in the kitchen. Naval experts believe she can be refloated.

WHAT ONE BIG MAN THINKS OF ANOTHER

President W. H. P. Faunce, of Brown University, is a pretty live wire who keeps abreast of the times, has keen powers of observation, and knows a good man when he sees him. Here is what he has to say about the Republican Candidate for the Presidency:

"I have known Justice Hughes intimately since we were students together at Brown and have seen him a thousand times at work and at play. No man of our generation has a finer combination of character and intellect. Absolutely fearless, unselfish, loyal to American ideals, he is worthy of a nation's trust."

"All his friends know that behind the dignity of bearing is a rich fund of humor and good fellowship. Whether he is climbing a mountain, reading novels, playing with his children, resisting a political lobby or delivering the opinion of the Supreme Court, he is even the same rugged, democratic, fair-minded American. His varied experience has given him wide horizon and sympathy with every aspect of American life."

"He possesses two qualities rarely found together—the judicial temper and the capacity for swift and resolute action. Under his administration the fog which now besets many public questions would be cleared away."

"His penetrating mind goes to the heart of any subject he selects and strips off the irrelevant at once. Such a mind is peculiarly needed amid the intricate problems that now confront America."

"We need more than good intentions. We need clear vision, sound judgment, strong will, unhesitating decisions. In short, we need Charles E. Hughes."

CITATION NEVER SERVED ON HER

For This Reason The Contempt of Court Case Against Mrs. Dessie Hoffman Was Dismissed

MAY START ANOTHER CASE

The habeas corpus proceedings brought by Mrs. Dessie Hoffman against Sheriff Hendrickson of Fayette county and Voorhees Cavitt of this county were dismissed this morning by the plaintiff and the costs paid. It was discovered that the citation issued by the Fayette circuit court for her appearance there had never been served on Mrs. Hoffman and for this reason she could not be cited for contempt of court.
The order of court was for her appearance there last May and this was never served. The attachment for her arrest was then issued and the habeas corpus proceedings filed.
Following the dismissal of the case a new order of the court was received and was expected to be served on her this afternoon. The Fayette circuit court is now in session. It is likely that Mrs. Hoffman will start another habeas corpus case to resist the attempt being made to get her in the Fayette circuit court. The present cases grow out of the Hoffman divorce suit tried in Fayette county. George Hoffman, a member of the Connersville police force was given the decree and the custody of the child. It is alleged that Mrs. Hoffman has not abided by the decree.

FAVORS WOMAN SUFFRAGE.

Some time ago, a consideration of our economic conditions and tendencies, of the position of women in gainful occupations, of the nature and course of the demand, led me to the conclusion that the granting of suffrage to women is inevitable. Opposition may delay, but in my judgment cannot defeat this movement. If women are to have the vote, as I believe they are, it seems to me entirely clear that in the interest of the public life of this country, the contest should be ended promptly. I favor the vote for women.
—From Mr. Hughes' speech of acceptance.

MAINTENANCE OF AMERICAN RIGHTS

Had this Government by the use of both informal and formal diplomatic opportunities left no doubt that when we said "strict accountability" we meant precisely what we said, and that we should unhesitatingly vindicate that position, I am confident that there would have been no destruction of American lives by the sinking of the Lusitania. There, we had ample notice; in fact, published notice. Furthermore, we knew the situation and we did not require specific notice. Instead of whittling away our formal statements by equivocal conversations, we needed the straight, direct and decisive representations which every diplomat and foreign office would understand. I believe that in this way we should have been spared the repeated assaults on American lives. Moreover, a firm American policy would have been strongly supported by our people and the opportunities for the development of bitter feeling would have been vastly reduced.—From Mr. Hughes' speech of acceptance.

Be Careful in Using Soap on Your Hair

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is just plain mulified coconut oil, for it is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap, and beats the most expensive soaps or anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

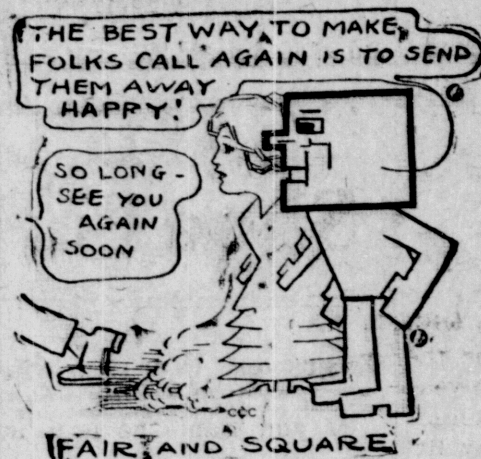

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy, and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.

Will Fight for Militia

Senator Townsend of Michigan has announced his purport to fight for the militiamen who in normal times are employed in the Mail Service. Many private institutions have announced that they will pay militiamen their regular salaries between their regular salaries and the amount it may be necessary to pay substitutes to perform their regular duties, according to Senator Townsend. Not so, the post-office department. In what the Senator terms "a bluff at economy," not only have the militiamen been dropped from the government rolls, but instead of employing temporary substitutes the Postmaster General has appointed men to the permanent roll to fill the vacancies, thus putting himself in a position where he cannot, without an act of Congress, restore those serving with the National Guard. Furthermore, the pay of substitutes is fixed by law at 40 cents an hour, while most of the regular employees received considerably higher compensation. Instead of seeking authority from Congress to pay the difference to the guardsmen—which authority would have been readily granted—Postmaster General Burleson is filling the vacancies with permanent men at 27-30 cents an hour and purposes, Mr. Townsend declares, to utilize the saving effected to make a showing of economy.

Democrats Extravagant

Senator Taggart of Indiana, the recently appointed Democrat who will run for senator in Indiana this fall, has taken occasion to lecture the Democratic party for its "gross extravagance," following in the footsteps of Rep. Fitzgerald, the Democratic chairman of the House Appropriations committee. "The power to tax is the power to destroy, and we do not want to destroy the people's earning power by over-taxation," said Mr. Taggart. "Instead of squandering money and passing pork-barrel bills would it not be better to cut out these useless expenditures? But if it be the fixed and determined purpose of Congress to go on yearly increasing these appropriations, would it not be better to turn them to things that would help the people instead of pouring money into sink-holes, never to return a cent upon the investment?" The Senator declared that every Senator and Congressman would go bankrupt were he to manage his own affairs with the extravagance Congress is displaying in spending the peoples money. Coming immediately on top of Gov. Hughes denunciation of Democratic extravagance, as well as the signing of the $42,000,000 Rivers and Harbors "Pork" Bill by President Wilson, Senator Taggart's speech has occasioned the utmost indignation at Democratic headquarters and there is talk of leaving the Senator to shift for himself in his efforts to obtain election in Indiana.

The efforts of the Government mediators to settle the railroad controversy and avert a general strike, involving probably 800,000 men and over 200 railroads, having failed, President Wilson has taken a hand and will endeavor to prevent this calamity. Not only has Mr. Wilson been appealed to by businessmen and producers from all over the country, but he realizes that it is highly important to prevent this strike, because it would be the climax to the long series of labor difficulties which have marked his administration. Regarding the President's request, that they do not call a strike until they have conferred with him as a command, the labor leaders have agreed to go to Washington for a conference before they take action. Those familiar with the situation gravely regret that the administration no longer has at its command the services of Chas. P. Neill, who was Labor Commissioner under Roosevelt and Taft and who has greater success in settling labor difficulties than any other man in the country, probably in the world.

Occasionally, however, some one resurrects the subject of nation defense.

It may be that beauty is only skin deep, but the well turned ankle catches the public eye.

Every man is supposed to be the architect of his own fortune, but many of them forget to build.

Nothing is harder to keep than a girl who fancies the other fellow.

Said road is 13,045 feet in length and to be constructed of stone with a glutin binder. Estimated cost, $17,241.00. Bids must be accompanied by bond as by law required.

ROOSEVELT APPLAUDS HUGHES' SPEECH

Theodore Roosevelt sat in a box at Carnegie hall when Mr. Hughes delivered his speech of acceptance and vigorously applauded every telling point.

The colonel repeatedly arose and bowed in response to the cheers for him and the shouts of "Teddy!" "Teddy!" "Hurrah for Teddy!" and when the meeting adjourned he made the following statement:

"It is an admirable speech, and I wish to call attention to the following points:

"I am particularly pleased with the exposure of the folly, and worse than folly, of Mr. Wilson's Mexican policy and of the way in which this policy has brought humiliation to the United States and disaster to Mexico itself.

"Moreover, I am very glad of the straightforward manner in which Mr. Hughes has shown the ridicule with which Mr. Wilson's conduct and action had been such as to make the foreign nations believe that he meant precisely what he said in his 'strict accountability' there would have been no reconstruction of American lives by the sinking of the Lusitania.

Not Words Which Count.

"As Mr. Hughes said, it is not words, but the strength and resolution behind the words which count. As Mr. Hughes pointed out, there is no doubt that if Mr. Wilson's conduct and action had been such as to make the foreign nations believe that he meant precisely what he said in his 'strict accountability' there would have been no reconstruction of American lives by the sinking of the Lusitania.

"When Mr. Hughes uses strong words his record shows that they are always backed by strong deeds, and therefore in the enormous majority of cases the use of strong words renders it unnecessary ever to have recourse to strong deeds.

"Again, Mr. Hughes speaks in characteristically straightforward fashion of the outrages committed on munitions plants, and all men, whether citizens of foreign nations or nominal citizens of our own land, who had in any shape or way abetted or condoned those actions can understand that Mr. Hughes, if president, will protect these domestic American interests and punish offenders against them with the fearlessness and thoroughness that he showed in dealing with the powers of evil at Albany.

Brought Nation to Ignominy.

"Just before coming in to listen to Mr. Hughes' just characterization of Mr. Wilson's failure to protect the lives and property of Americans in Mexico and on the high seas I happened to pick up John Fiske's 'Critical Period of American History' and was struck by the following two sentences: "'A government touches the lowest point of ignominy when it confesses its inability to protect the lives and the property of its citizens. A government which has come to this has failed in discharging the primary function of government and forthwith ceases to have any reason for existing.'"

"Mr. Hughes has pointed out in his speech with self restraint, but with emphasis, that it is precisely this primary function which Mr. Wilson's administration has failed to discharge and that it is precisely this point of ignominy to which he has reduced the nation over which he is president."

A POLICY OF FIRMNESS AND CONSISTENCY NEEDED.

The nation has no policy of aggression toward Mexico. We have no desire for any part of her territory. We wish her to have peace, stability and prosperity. We shall have to adopt a new policy, a policy of firmness and consistency through which alone we can promote an enduring friendship. We demand from Mexico the protection of the lives and the property of our citizens and the security of our border from depredations. Much will be gained if Mexico is convinced that we contemplate no meddlesome interference with what does not concern us, but that we propose to insist in a firm and candid manner upon the performance of international obligations. To a stable government, appropriately discharging its international duties, we should give ungrudging support. A short period of firm, consistent and friendly dealing will accomplish more than many years of vacillation. — From Mr. Hughes' Speech of Acceptance.

AN ADMINISTRATION TOO CONTENT WITH LEISURELY DISCUSSION.

I do not put life and property on the same footing, but the administration has not only been remiss with respect to the protection of American lives. It has been remiss with respect to the protection of American property and American commerce. It has been too much disposed to be content with leisurely discussion. — From Mr. Hughes' Speech of Acceptance.

WILL CONDUCT AN AUTO CAMPAIGN

Franchise League Will Visit Every
Community in Fight to Gain
Action in Legislature

SPEECHES WILL BE SHORT

(By United Press.)
Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 15.—For fifteen days workers of the Franchise League will conduct an automobile campaign through Indiana, visiting every community. The purpose of the campaign, starting today, is to start the suffrage idea, germinating in every community in preparation for the coming election and session of the legislature.

Men should be on the look out, for if they join the crowd, at auto to hear the women speak they will be asked to contribute. In order that all may know what to expect, the following excerpt from the Instructions to workers is quoted.

"When your crowd gathers have your speaker talk not more than half an hour, plain, simple suffrage, suitable for a mixed and uninformed audience. Have others distribute literature and both before and after the speech talk to the people and for future use get a line on those interested. In many cases women will be found who will help towards an organization by arranging a later meeting for the purpose. If there are even a handful of men in the crowd a collection should be taken.

"An hour will suffice to do everything possible in the town. Then go along to the next. If you have time put literature in the mail boxes all along the route. This is a nuisance but creates a great deal of useful talk throughout the countryside.

The campaign will close September 1.

The members will be given the status of Argentine national employees that they may be entirely unhampered. The exact date of their coming has not yet been announced.

NEARLY READY FOR AUTO SHOW

National Interest In Indianapolis Exhibition.

MANY AUTOS ON DISPLAY

Local Motor Car Dealers Now Know
Just What Positions Their Displays
Will Occupy—Interest at Higher
Pitch Than Ever Before.

By Frank B. Bull.
With the closing of space reservations for the Fifteenth annual show of the Indianapolis Automobile Trade association will come the drawings for position in the big coliseum. During the past week the local dealers have been coming forward with reservations, and from the number now entered the show will be the largest in number of exhibitors and number of cars in the local show history.

The interest of the general public in the event is at a higher pitch than ever before, according to the various dealers along the row. Every one interested in an automobile, however slightly, seems to be planning to spend at least a part of one day at the show. The number of exhibitors and the large number of cars which will be displayed will make it well worth their while. Owners, prospective buyers and dealers from all parts of the state have signified their intention of visiting the show to see the latest products of the motor car makers' genius.

Will Watch for Changes.
The changes made in this year's models will be highly interesting to the motorist. He will view them with intelligence and appreciation, for the motor car is still advancing. Each year finds it occupying a slightly different place in the scheme of every day living.

Time was when a motor car was looked upon as a means for covering comparatively short distances. Gradually the radius of the motor car became extended through the perfection of its mechanism, until today its zone of activity is confined only by the boundaries of the continent. Anywhere that a man can go on foot a motor car will go on wheels—with the exception only of the little, narrow mountainous defiles. Let us put it this way: Anywhere a man can take his family by any of the means of conveyance heretofore known he can now take them in a motor car. This means that the American family is getting to be more of an out-of-doors institution than at any time since the good old cave-dwelling days, or the tree-dwelling days when our grandfathers hung by their tails and threw coconuts at our grandmothers.

Puts "Red" in Cheeks.
Back to nature is the slogan of the times, and the automobile has made it mean something beyond a mere jargon of words. We are working and playing in a bath of ozone. Gasoline has accomplished the regeneration of our puny little race and is putting the "red" in our cheeks indelibly. One of the strong influences in favor of the universal adoption of the motor car is the remarkable success which the build-up has achieved in the production of a reasonably good car at a price much lower than any one ever thought possible.

Look up and down automobile row if you would realize what a miracle the efficiency man has worked. The cars which you can buy today for $1,000 are much better than the big, clumsy ones you used to buy for $3,000. They look better, run better and are better from every standpoint. Have you stopped to consider the difference between a man with a motor car and the same man without one?

If you have seen your zone of happiness suddenly multiplied to proportions far beyond what has been its wont; if you have seen old friends forgotten suddenly brought back into your circles of life; if you have seen your good wife suddenly revive her interest in things toward which she long since had grown indifferent, and along with these new delights, if you have seen the ineffable joy which has been hers at the realization that the children for whose welfare she is responsible have suddenly acquired health and that playful abandon that means all to child living—if you have experienced these things, then you know the difference between owning a motor car and doing without one. It means, these days, the difference between happiness and despair.

These days, too, there is a wheel-base for every purse and the fact that a man is not a millionaire need not keep him in the go-without class. The little fellows with their good four cylinders will get you out into the open just as surely as will the big transcontinental touring car, and they are cheaper in the long run than inter-urban fare. Incidentally, when you ride in your own motor car you are riding in a private car—free from the germs and the gyrations of the rabble—a motor car that is yours, all yours in every sense of the word.

The Indianapolis show, which is to be held at the coliseum the week of Feb. 28, will bring home to you with startling force just what the builder of motor cars has done for you.

London, August 15.—Recapture by the British of about 700 yards of German trenches on the Somme battlefield and a successful blow on the most important sector of the Verdun battlefield, was recorded in official dispatches today.

The German war office this afternoon admitted the British victory on the Somme front. The line of German trenches carried by the British north and northwest of Pozieres and subsequently retaken by the Germans, were again conquered in fighting that began Sunday morning and continued until last night. Berlin, however, announced the repulse of all other British and French attacks on the Somme front.

In fighting northeast of Verdun the French captured German trenches on a 300-yard front to a depth of 100 yards, it was officially announced at Paris.

OPPOSE WAR

(By United Press.)
Hammond, Ind., Aug. 15.—Socialists started a vigorous anti-war campaign here today with a meeting on the postoffice corner. It is planned to bring Florence Wattle, the feminist writer, and, if possible, Margaret Sanger, here to advocate the socialist cause. Mrs. Sanger is creating a sensation elsewhere with her crusade for family limitations, known as birth control.

FUNERALS BY AEROPLANE MAY BE ATTEMPTED SOON

Biplanes to Take Place of Hearses if Plans of Undertaker Materialize.

Funerals in the air are to be the next innovation to which the aeroplane is to be turned. To be in style one must make arrangements to have the mortal remains carried on a swift and somber hued biplane to the final resting place, and the first aerial cortege will probably be seen in New York within a comparatively short time.

So announced the head of a funeral company, at a dinner of the Aeronautical Society of America the other evening. He added that he intended to be the first to water to the coming demand, and his new establishment is to be fitted with a landing stage for air craft on the roof and all conveniences for mourners who wish to make the trip.

"They laughed when we first talked of motor funerals to supersede the old hearses," he said, "and they may laugh at this. But it's coming, and I'm going to be the first in the new line."

A. Leo Stevens, the dirigible aviator, is working on the plan, and arrangements are being made with an aeroplane construction company for the services of several weight carrying machines until the company can furnish a flotilla of its own. Frederick W. Barker, president of the society, endorsed the plan by remarking that "it was another of the revolutionary plans for utilizing the aeroplane that, while startling, should be perfectly feasible."

TOMMY TELLS OF WAR.

"Mix heaven and hell; add earth, occasional glimpses of sky; much blood, continuously flowing; flesh, almost beyond recognition as human flesh, and, above all and with all, multitudinous modicum of mud, and you begin to envisage war."

In these words Henry Logan, who was introduced as "a plain English Tommie from the trenches," endeavored to convey to members of the Thursday Morning Current Events club of Philadelphia a picture of the great conflict that is convulsing Europe at present.

The battle of Loos furnished illustrations for the spectacle that Private Logan sought to convey. In this engagement 1,250 men of the battalion to which he was attached were ordered to charge by an officer who later faced a court martial as the result of his stupidity.

"In a minute," Logan said, "we were tangled up in the enemy's entanglements. Of those 1,250 who went in fifty got back to the trenches. I was one of the fortunate few, but I was temporarily blind, and later I was discharged as unfit for further service. But if I was blind I was not deaf, and the moans of those who lay out there between the lines for the next two days will never be forgotten so long as memory remains to me."

FIFTY YEARS A PURSER.

Thomas Kinsey of the St. Paul to Retire After Return Trip.

Thomas Kinsey, purser of the American line St. Paul, will retire from the sea on his return to England, when he will have completed his eleven hundredth trip across the Atlantic.

Kinsey is about seventy-five years old and holds the record for length of service with transatlantic lines. He has been a purser for more than fifty years, during which time he has visited nearly every country on the globe and has encircled the world several times. He will retire to his home in Southampton, where Mrs. Kinsey is awaiting him.

Statistics on Millionaires.
Dr. Russell H. Conwell of Boston states that he has been investigating 4,043 American millionaires and finds that all but twenty of them started life as poor boys and all but forty have contributed largely to their communities, but that only one rich man's son in seventeen dies rich.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. GREAT REPUBLICAN CLUB ORGANIZES FOR CAMPAIGN

Columbia Club of Indianapolis Lays Plans for Active Work in State-National Campaign

SPECIAL COMMITTEE CHOSEN

Arthur R. Robinson and Ben R. Inman
Will Supervise Work of Organizing Membership Throughout State.

Indianapolis.—A monster canvas sign, 12 feet by 50 feet, extending entirely across the front of the Columbia Club and bearing the words, "OUR TICKET — HUGHES AND FAIRBANKS," and a large pennant

bearing the same inscription floating from the flag staff on the top of the club house, is the initial step in which the Columbia Club, as a Republican organization, enters into the present campaign with a determination to render real service to the Republican party.

Plans have been perfected whereby the club is to be made a powerful factor in the political activities of the state and nation during the campaign. The entire membership of the club, more than three thousand strong, representing every county in the state, is to be organized for specific work in the interests of the Republican state and national tickets.

A central organization composed of Columbia Club members, and known as the "Columbia Club Campaign Committee," has been perfected to have general supervision of the work of organizing the club membership throughout the state into an active working force to co-operate with the regular state, district and county organizations in carrying forward the work of the campaign. This organization has been perfected by the selection of the following officers: Arthur R. Robinson, chairman; B. R. Inman, secretary, and Gwynn F. Patterson, treasurer. In addition to these, a district vice-chairman has been chosen in each of the thirteen congressional districts, as follows:

First District.—Clifford T. Curry, Evansville.

Second District.—Thomas H. Adams, Vincennes.

Third District.—Charles W. Lanz, Bedford.

Fourth District.—W. C. Oliver, Franklin.

Fifth District.—Job Freeman, Terre Haute.

Sixth District.—R. N. Elliott, Connersville.

Seventh District.—Eben H. Wolcott, Indianapolis.

Eighth District.—Harry Kitzelman, Muncie.

Ninth District.—Everett Neal, Noblesville.

Tenth District.—Warren T. McCray, Kentland.

Eleventh District.—J. O. Batchelor, Marion.

Twelfth District.—Allen J. Vessey, Ft. Wayne.

Thirteenth District.—Charles A. Carlisle, South Bend.

Headquarters for the committee have been established on the fifth floor of the Columbia Club. The large assembly room will be turned into a "work shop" for the use of the committee. Private rooms will be provided by temporary partitions for the use of the committee, candidates and party leaders.

During the last year the Columbia Club has increased its membership from one thousand to over three thousand. It now enjoys the distinction of being the largest Republican Club in the United States. Every county in Indiana, as well as more than a score of states, is represented on the membership list.

The plan to place the club on a practical working basis in the interests of the Republican party is meeting with the hearty approval of the members all over the state. It is said that complaints have been made in the past to the effect that the Columbia Club was a Republican club in name only. It is now proposed to make the organization available for practical service in behalf of the party.

The central organization of the "Columbia Club Campaign Committee" will organize auxiliaries in each of the thirteen congressional districts. It is said that strong organizations of Columbia Club members will be perfected in at least fifty of the ninety-two counties in the state. Every large center of population in the state is to be represented with an active working organization, affiliating with the central organization, and all working under the direction of the regular state organization.

During the next few weeks, Arthur R. Robinson and B. R. Inman, chairman and secretary respectively of the "Columbia Club Campaign Committee," will visit a number of the principal cities of the state and will effect local organizations among the members of the club. They will be assisted in this work by the several district vice-chairmen of the central organization. Personal letters will be sent out to the club members informing them of the time and place of holding the meeting in their particular counties.

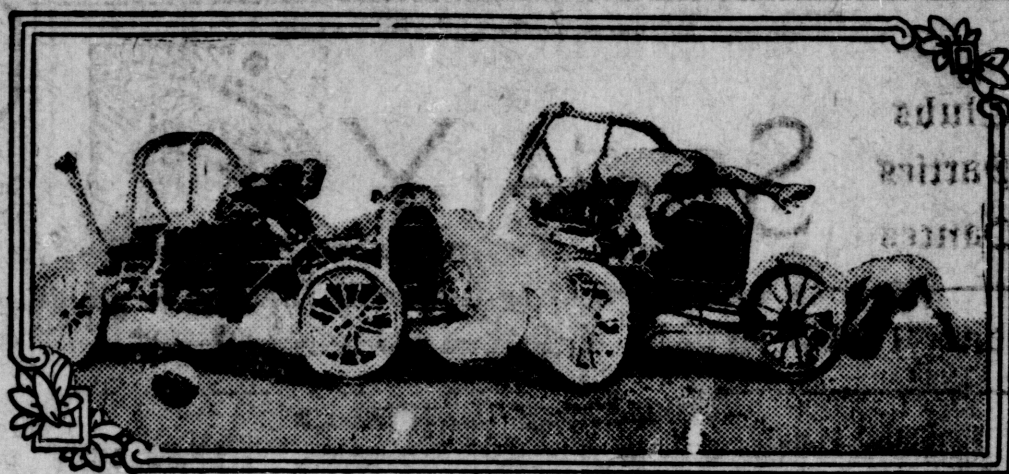

The co-operation of the entire membership throughout the state is requested in perfecting the state-wide organization among the club members.

Inquiries concerning the work contemplated, addressed to B. R. Inman, Secretary of the Columbia Club, Indianapolis, Ind., will receive prompt attention.

FACTIONAL DIFFERENCES HAVE BEEN FORGOTTEN

That the reunion of the two factions of the Republican party in Indiana is no longer a theory is becoming more and more apparent each day. The Columbia Club at Indianapolis, which now bears the distinction of being the largest Republican club in the United States, has proven a valuable party asset in bringing the two wings of the party into harmonious relationship. Among the two thousand new members which have been added to the club roster during the past year are a large number of former Progressives. These men will give enthusiastic and active support to the Republican cause in the present campaign.

AUTO POLO AT INDIANA STATE FAIR

Polo played by men who use automobiles, instead of ponies or roller skates, will be one of the conspicuous outdoor features of the Indiana State Fair the week of Sept. 4. Auto polo abounds in thrills for the spectators from start to finish. A large light ball is used, with the same kind of driving mallets as are seen in the pony games. The light cars skim over the field at full speed, head-on collisions and sideswipes being frequent, and the wonder of the game is that any of the players escape with their lives. Hankinson's teams will play the games at the Indiana fair. They are world famous, having appeared at eighteen of America's largest expositions and state fairs, and they have toured Japan, China, the Philippines and other countries of the Orient and far East.

INDIANA STATE FAIR RACES WEEK OF SEPT. 4

The harness races at the Indiana state fair will have the usual large number of starters and the sport will be of superior quality in which many famous trotting and pacing stables will be represented by their best talent. The program follows:
Monday, Sept. 4—2:25 pace, 2:10 trot; 2:03 pace; 2:25 trot; 2:09 pace; purse in each race, $800.
Tuesday, Sept. 5—2:28 trot, 2:17 pace, Western Horseman pacing stake for three-year-olds, purse $3,000; 2:13 pace; purses $1,000 each.

Wednesday, Sept. 6—2:20 trot, Western Horseman trotting stake for three-year-olds, purse, $6,000; 2:08 trot, 2:06 pace; purse, $1,000 each.
Thursday, Sept. 7—2:18 trot, 2:20 pace, 2:12 trot, 2:20 pace; purse in each race, $1,000.
Friday, Sept. 8—2:15 trot, free-for-all pace, 2:1 trot, 2:15 pace; purse in each race, $1,000.

PROSPECTS FOR APPLES ARE POOR

Crop Will Not be One-Fourth That of Last Year it is Estimated by Orchardists

CIDER WILL BE VERY SCARCE

Only Scientifically Treated Trees Will Yield Well—Some Orchards About Lost

The apple crop of 1915 will probably hold the record in Rush county for some time, according to local orchardists who say there will be very few apples this year. By the same token, apple cider will not be so plentiful this year. In fact, it is stated, most fruits will be a luxury in Rush county.

The apple crop has advanced far enough so that orchardists as well as farmers who have an orchard but pay little attention to it can estimate just about what the yield will be. Their view is anything but optimistic. It is doubtful if the crop will be one-fourth of that of last year.

Many men who ran cider mills last year are this year not planning to start their mills at all. They say that there is not enough apples to pay even setting up the mill. One cider mill owner visited other counties in the state to find what prospects are and learned that elsewhere the prospects for an apple crop are the same as in Rush county.

This is not agreeable news, but it is the straight truth and the people may as well make up their minds to accept it. The scarcity of the fruit will mean, of course, high prices. There will be no such thing as going out in the country this fall and getting all apples you want for from twenty-five to fifty cents a bushel. Apples will be apples this autumn. They will taste of money, anybody may be sure of that.

There are comparatively few orchards in the county that will yield anything approximating a normal crop. Those orchards that have been scientifically treated—that have been fertilized and sprayed—will bring forth a fair supply of fruit, but not even they will approach the abundance of last year's yield. The neglected orchards, in most cases, will not have enough apples to justify the owners in taking the time to pick them.

The experience as regards apples will not be a novel one in Rush county. It has long been a case of either feast or famine locally with this fruit. Only the scientific orchardists—and they unfortunately are not numerous—have solved the problem of growing a fair supply of apples every year.

The apple crop of 1915 will probably hold the record for a long time. There was scarcely an apple tree in the country that was not loaded with fruit. Somehow, conditions were exactly suited to apples throughout the spring summer and fall. Not a thing hurt the crop from the time the trees were in bloom until the apples were ready for the barrel. Never in all the history of Rush county were its orchards as resplendent as they were last autumn. All are going to be reminded of it this fall—the scene will be different.

DON'T NEED THE MAYOR

(By United Press.)

Fort Wayne, Ind., Aug. 15.—Members of the city council who saw their jitney bus ordinance regulating the new common carrier vetoed by Mayor Hosey, declared today that they will introduce another ordinance and pass it over the mayor's veto if necessary. They are encouraged by the fact that in the recent effort they lacked only one vote to override Hosey's vote.

HE IS TOO BUSY TO SIT ON COMMISSION

Associate Justice Brandeis Informs President He Can't Serve as Mediator

NOT TO BE IN BORDER PARLEY

Washington, Aug. 15.—Associate Justice Louis D. Brandeis of the United States Supreme Court has informed President Wilson that because of the mass of business before the court he would be unable to accept the President's designation to serve on the joint commission which will attempt to solve the difficulties between the United States and Mexico.

Justice Brandeis conferred with the President and Attorney General Gregory late in the day and the question of the Justice's accepting was gone over thoroughly.

ENCAMPMENT WILL NOT BE HELD HERE

Patriarch Militants Meeting Called Off Locally Because Crowd Couldn't be Guaranteed

IT WAS SET FOR NEXT WEEK

The annual encampment of the Patriarch Militants, the military branch of the Odd Fellows lodge, which was to have been held here the first three days of next week, has been called off because the Patriarch Militants would not guarantee a crowd in proportion to the amount of money which Franklin lodge, No. 35, I. O. O. F. had intended to spend for the entertainment of the visitors at the proposed encampment.

The encampment will be held at some point in the northern part of the state, it was stated by a member of Franklin lodge, but he did not know then name of the city. A committee of five members of Franklin lodge went to Indianapolis on May 16 to confer with a committee from the Patriarch Militants and it was agreed then that the encampment should be held here. At that time the Indiana grand lodge was in session.

Rush County Business Men's Association May File 200 to Collect From "Dead Beats"

NOTICES TO SUE SENT OUT

Intention is to Get Judgment and Offer Them at Private Sale and Then at Auction

Debtors of the Rush County Business Men's Association, especially those of the "dead beat" class, will find the going a little hard here from now on as the association will file suits on account against this class of people. In fact, one suit has already been filed and it was announced today that 200 more were to be filed.

The suit filed today was against Henry Richardson, colored. The suit was filed in the court of Squire Kratzer and the plaintiffs in the action are all of the members of the credit exchange, known as the Rush County Business Men's association. This particular suit against Richardson, alleges that he owes the John Morris hardware firm $8. The account it about three years old and with interest at six per cent the total demanded is brought up to $9.44.

It is the intention of the credit exchange to secure judgment against every one of these two hundred persons, then offer the judgments for sale at private sale for thirty days. Then, if the judgments are not sold, will be offered at public sale under the hammer on the downtown streets of the city. Before the rest of these suits are filed the debtors will be sent notices giving them time to pay the debts and thus avoid the litigation.

All of this, it is expected, will not take well with the debtors of this particular class. But the merchants declare they are driven to this action. Every effort has been made to collect these bad debts and the debtors have not paid the slightest attention. The merchants have no intention of harassing the debtor who is making an honest effort to pay. They are not organized to distress or embarrass the person who is honest and intends to pay, even though he is cramped and cannot make a great headway. The suits and efforts are directed first at that class known as the "dead beat."

The merchants are out to collect from this class, or else to punish them and to hold them up to view, and make it impossible for them to get credit anywhere.

A similar plan has been tried in Connersville. Last week some two hundred suits of this character were filed there and the merchants state that they have already benefited thereby. It is pointed out that no matter what other faults a "dead beat" may have, he hates publicity.

TRIES TO TAKE HER LIFE

Mrs. Burg Miller of Near Clarksburg Swallows Arsenic

Mrs. Burg Miller, residing on the Luther Hamilton farm, near Clarksburg attempted suicide yesterday by swallowing a quantity of arsenic. Despondency is said to have been the cause of her act. She was found a short time after taking the poison and a physician was called. She was improved today and it is believed will suffer no ill effects from the drug. Neighbors assert that she has been despondent for some time, probably due to some slight domestic difficulty and ill health.

PROGRAM FOR BAND CONCERT ARRANGED

One of Feature Pieces for Wednesday Night's Appearance is a Descriptive Number

FIRST CONCERT IN TWO WEEKS

The regular Wednesday night band concert will be given tomorrow evening on the court house square. An attractive program has been arranged. No band concert was given last week on account of the chautauqua. One of the feature pieces arranged is a descriptive number entitled "The Haunted House." The number opens with the approach of midnight, followed by the moaning of the wind. The clock then strikes twelve, rousing the ghost. The ghosts assemble amidst the rattling of chains, following which comes a ghost dance. This is followed by the arrival of the king ghost and the grave scene. Morning then approaches, the rooster crows and the ghosts disappear. The program follows:

March—"More Fraternity."
Overture—"La Petite Brunette."
Waltz—"Danube Waves."
"Haunted House"—Descriptive.
"Poppy Time in Old Japan."
Comic Overture—"Lustspiel."
"My Little Dream Girl."
March—"Colonial Queen."

RUSHVILLE IS WITHOUT PREACHERS

Happened Today That all Were Out of the City, Majority Being on Vacations

NO SERMONS ON NEXT SUNDAY

Rushville probably came as near being without preachers today as ever in the history of the city. In fact, all of the ministers residing here were out of the city and it is stated there will be no preaching Sunday in any of the churches. The regular Sunday school will be conducted and perhaps laymen will address the congregations, but the preachers are all gone.

The Rev. S. G. Huntington is attending the Baptist association conference near Rays Crossing. The Rev. John Aiken, pastor of the United Presbyterian church, is spending a vacation in Pennsylvania. The Rev. D. Ira Lambert is visiting in Charleston, W. Va., and the Rev. C. M. Yocum is in Stubensville, Ohio. The Rev. W. M. Whitsitt, pastor of St. Paul's M. E. church, is taking his vacation at Winona Lake.

MANAGES TO GET INTO WAR ZONE

Mrs. Theresa Conover Writes of Her Experience in Venice Where She Went From Paris

PARENTS GET TWO LETTERS

Glass Dome of Rotunda of Hotel Where She Was Stopping is Broken by Enemy Shells

The Rev. and Mrs. Daniel Ryan have received two interesting letters of late from their daughter, Mrs. Theresa Conover, who is now in the very heart of the war zone—Venice—where war scenes are common. One letter was written on arrival at Venice and the other at Paris just before departing. The two letters are very entertaining and are as follows:

Venice, July 19.
Here we are in this wonderful city. As it is really in the war zone, we had much trouble in getting permission to enter and then for four days only. I was most heart broken, but some friends appealed to the admiral and we got fifteen days.

It has been so wonderful. No lights at night but the moon and everywhere soldiers and the navy officers in their white uniforms only add to the beauty of it all. We have had two bombardments since I came. The first one hit the glass dome of the rotunda of our hotel and came through and rolled at my feet in spite of the fact that I am neutral.

It was a wonderful thing and I would not have missed this visit for all that might come in the future. They brought one aeroplane down with two men—killed, of course. The guns can be heard so distinctly this morning and yet I have to hear it all.

This card shows them removing one of the three great bronze horses from St. Mark's church just for protection from bombs. I hope you are all well. We go to Switzerland and back to Paris about the first of August. Don't know just when I shall start home. Hope all are well.

Paris, July 1.

Jack's letter came yesterday with Col. Gowdy's letter enclosed. Thank you very much. This is a beautiful day and I am writing in a little garden connected with the hotel. Was awakened this morning by the whirr of a motor in the skies and jumped out of bed to see several airships passing by. The sound of the guns at the front could be plainly heard, but a tiny bird in the garden at my window was singing as loudly as its little throat would permit as if to drown all sounds of war.

We are living just a few doors to the right of this arch (it is shown on the card on which she wrote) and it will be a wonderful sight when the victorious army comes marching through it again. I should like to be here.

The news is splendid today. Victory for the allies—the Russians and Italians. I am studying French every day and my teacher comes every day with a smile on her face, though it is now two weeks since she heard from her only child, a boy of twenty who is just at the front. That is France, smiling though her heart is breaking.

It's really wonderful to be here just now. The matter of passports seems to take an endless time here so I don't know when we shall get away. I have gotten a special permit from our consul to enter Venice and, as that is really in the war zone, they are much more careful and it takes longer.

OUTLINES FOR 7 INSTITUTES

Booklet is Received by County Superintendent, Calling for Township Teachers School

ALSO FOR CITY INSTITUTES

There Will be Nine of the Latter During the Year—Committee to Report Provided For

The township and city institute booklet, giving the outlines for the institutes to be held during the coming school year, has been received by C. M. George, county superintendent of schools, and shows that there will be seven townships and nine city institutes.

The dates for the institutes will be announced at the preliminary institute for all township teachers which will be held in the court house assembly room Saturday, September 9. The township institutes will be held the same places as last year.

The teachers of Orange, Anderson and Richland townships will meet at Milroy. Those of Walker will alternate between Homer and Manilla. The teachers of Posey, Rushville and Noble townships will hold their institute in the teachers' examination room of the court house and those of Union, Ripley and Jackson will meet at the same place on a different Saturday. Those of Center and Washington will alternate between Mays and Raleigh.

Through an oversight in the law the teachers of the schools in incorporated towns do not have to attend institute. The law will probably be amended at the next session of the legislature. The new law just became effective at the beginning of the last school year. It was the first time the city teachers ever had to attend institute.

In the institute booklet the state superintendent, Charles A. Great-house, asks the county superintendent to appoint one teacher from each township to compose a committee which shall report at the close of the school year a summary of certain points on the township institutes of the county. Each city superintendent is asked to furnish the same summary for the city institutes.

ADOPTS SOME NEW TACTICS IN SPEECH

Candidate Hughes Uses Personal Pronoun Frequently in Speech at Tacoma, Wash.

GETS BEST RECEPTION YET

Tacoma, Wash., August 15.—Republican Presidential Candidate Charles E. Hughes adopted new campaign tactics here today. Choosing inefficiency as his battering ram in the assault against the Democratic party, the Republican candidate began to use the personal pronoun in pledges and promises.

"If you elect me to an executive office," he told an audience here today, "I promise to use my full executive influence."

The candidate also switched from an address entirely devoted to the Republican party to one in which he put forward his own personal claims. The result was that Hughes received as great an ovation here as anywhere on the trip.

Manager of Zedlers Says It's Best They Ever Visited

The Zedler Symphonic Sextette, before departing from Rushville Sunday night after two days' engagement at the chautauqua, had nothing but the highest praise for Rushville. The leader of the organization said that the Rush county chautauqua had better order, better quarters, a better spirit and more appreciative audiences than any assembly the Zedlers had visited. He also declared that the talent was treated better than at any place they had ever been.

DUGAN FINED $25 ON PLEA OF GUILTY

Also Sentenced to Thirty Days in Jail But it is Withheld Pending Good Behavior

DUGAN TAKES AN APPEAL

William Dugan was fined $25 and costs and sentenced to jail for 30 days this morning when he entered a plea of guilty to the charge of assault and battery on Mrs. Charles Moore. The jail sentence was suspended by Mayor Bebout. Dugan was found not guilty on the three other charges, which included the case tried Monday. An appeal was taken to the circuit court. There was some question as to whether he had a right to appeal from a plea of guilty, but Mayor Bebout decided that this could be settled in the circuit court. The appeal bond was placed at $100 which was readily given by Dugan.

Mayor Bebout, in pronouncing sentence reviewed the evidence in the cases, and while he criticized Mrs. Moore for being too hasty in hunting trouble with Dugan, stated that this did not excuse Dugan from committing assault. The sentence was severe because the prosecuting witness was a woman. The Dugan and Moore families are neighbors but there is a feud existing and the court urged all of the parties to attend to their own business and avoid getting into court.

REST OF MILITIA NOT TO BE MOVED

Order Postponing Transfer to Border Postponed Because of Threatened Strike

SUPPLIES SHORT, IT IS SAID

(By United Press.)
Washington, August 15.—Because of the threatened railroad strike the war department today suspended indefinitely the proposed movement to the border of between 25,000 and 35,000 mobilized militia in state camps, ordered to the Mexican line last week.

The reason for suspending the order is a possible shortage of supplies and difficulty of obtaining transportation for the men. It has no connection, it is said, with possible use of the troops during the present strike.

BURDEN RESTS WITH EMPLOYES

If There Are Any Concessions to be Made, They Must Make Them. It Now Appears.

MANAGERS ACCEPT 8-HR. DAY

They Demand, However, That Subject of Overtime Pay be Subjected to Investigation.

(By United Press.)
Washington, August 15.—The burden of concessions in bringing about an adjustment of the threatened railroad strike appeared to have swung around from the railroads to the employees today.

After the railroad managers had been in the white house for more than an hour and a half it was learned they had agreed to accept the basic principles of the eight-hour day but they demand that the question of overtime pay be subjected to a more far reaching investigation.

At the conclusion of the conference with the managers, President Wilson authorized the following statement:

"The president spent an hour and a half this morning with the representatives of the railroad managers. After the conference he said it was impossible as yet to report the result; all that he could say was that a very candid and honest discussion was in progress about the practicable basis of settlement."

The conference of the managers ended at 10:40. They would not make any statement on leaving. It was announced the president would see the employees at three o'clock this afternoon.

The investigation of the application of the shorter day principle to the railway operation, as presented to the president today, would be made through a board appointed by the president, it is understood. In accepting the basic principle of the 8-hour day the railroads go on the belief that neither the president or the employees would expect the 8-hour day to be put into effect until the whole subject has been inquired into and a working agreement has been arranged.

In some respects it might be regarded as a step forward in the negotiations. The employers are not favorable to an out-and-out 8-hour day, their day to end at the conclusion of that period. The question of whether they would yield on the point of delaying actual application of the new program until it has been subjected to thorough investigation remains to be seen.

About 300 of her crew were drowned. One of the ship's magazines exploded while efforts were being made to beach her. The blaze is thought to have started in the kitchen. CITATION NEVER SERVED ON HER

For This Reason The Contempt of Court Case Against Mrs. Des-sie Hoffman Was Dismissed

MAY START ANOTHER CASE

The habeas corpus proceedings brought by Mrs. Dessie Hoffman against Sheriff Hendrickson of Fayette county and Voorhees Cavitt of this county were dismissed this morning by the plaintiff and the costs paid. It was discovered that the citation issued by the Fayette circuit court for her appearance there had never been served on Mrs. Hoffman and for this reason she could not be cited for contempt of court.

The order of court was for her appearance there last May and this was never served. The attachment for her arrest was then issued and the habeas corpus proceedings filed.

Following the dismissal of the case a new order of the court was received and was expected to be served on her this afternoon. The Fayette circuit court is now in session. It is likely that Mrs. Hoffman will start another habeas corpus case to resist the attempt being made to get her in the Fayette circuit court. The present cases grow out of the Hoffman divorce suit tried in Fayette county. George Hoffman, a member of the Connersville police force was given the decree and the custody of the child. It is alleged that Mrs. Hoffman has not abided by the decree.

FAVORS WOMAN SUFFRAGE.

Some time ago, a consideration of our economic conditions and tendencies, of the position of women in gainful occupations, of the nature and course of the demand, led me to the conclusion that the granting of suffrage to women is inevitable. Opposition may delay, but in my judgment cannot defeat this movement. If women are to have the vote, as I believe they are, it seems to me entirely clear that in the interest of the public life of this country, the contest should be ended promptly. I favor the vote for women. —From Mr. Hughes' speech of acceptance.

Had this Government by the use of both informal and formal diplomatic opportunities left no doubt that when we said "strict accountability" we meant precisely what we said, and that we should unhesitatingly vindicate that position, I am confident that there would have been no destruction of American lives by the sinking of the Lusitania. There, we had ample notice; in fact, published notice. Furthermore, we knew the situation and we did not require specific notice. Instead of whitening away our formal statements by equivocal conversations, we needed the straight, direct and decisive representations which every diplomat and foreign office would understand. I believe that in this way we should have been spared the repeated assaults on American lives. Moreover, a firm American policy would have been strongly supported by our people and the opportunities for the development of a bitter feeling would have been vastly reduced. —From Mr. Hughes' speech of acceptance.

Be Careful in Using Soap on Your Hair

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is just plain mul-sified coconut oil, for it is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap and beats the most expensive soaps or any thing else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thor-oughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, shiny, wavy, and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.

Will Fight for Militia

Senator Townsend of Michigan has announced his purpose to fight for the militiamen who in normal times are employed in the Mail Service. Many private institutions have announced that they will pay militiamen their regular salaries between their regular salaries and the amount it may be necessary to pay substitutes to perform their regular duties, according to Senator Townsend. Not so, the post-office department. In what the Senator terms "a bluff at economy," not only have the militiamen been dropped from the government rolls, but instead of employing temporary substitutes the Postmaster General has appointed men to the permanent roll to fill the vacancies, thus putting himself in a position where he cannot, without an act of Congress, restore those serving with the National Guard. Furthermore, the pay of substitutes is fixed by law at 40 cents an hour, while most of the regular employes received considerably higher compensation. Instead of seeking authority from Congress to pay the difference to the guardsmen—which authority would have been readily granted—Postmaster General Burdison is filling the vacancies with permanent men at 27-1/2 cents an hour and purposes, Mr. Townsend declares, to utilize the saving effected to make a showing of economy.

Democrats Extravagant

Senator Taggart of Indiana, the recently appointed Democrat who will run for senator in Indiana this fall, has taken occasion to lecture the Democratic party for its "gross extravagance," following in the footsteps of Rep. Fitzgerald, the Democratic chairman of the House Appropriations committee. "The power to tax is the power to destroy, and we do not want to destroy the people's earning power by over-taxation," said Mr. Taggart. "Instead of squandering money and passing pork-barrel bills would it not be better to cut out these useless expenditures? But if it be the fixed and determined purpose of Congress to go on yearly increasing these appropriations, would it not be better to turn them to things that would help the people instead of pouring money into sink holes, never to return a cent upon the investment?" The Senator declared that every Senator and Congressman would go bankrupt were he to manage his own affairs with the extravagance Congress is displaying in spending the peoples money. Coming immediately on top of Gov. Hughes denunciation of Democratic extravagance, as well as the signing of the $42,000,000 Rivers and Harbors "Pork" Bill by President Wilson, Senator Taggart's speech has occasioned the utmost indignation at Democratic headquarters and there is talk of leaving the Senator to shift for himself in his efforts to obtain election in Indiana.

The efforts of the Government mediators to settle the railroad controversy and avert a general strike, involving probably 800,000 men and over 200 railroads, having failed, President Wilson has taken a hand and will endeavor to prevent this calamity. Not only has Mr. Wilson been appealed to by businessmen and producers from all over the country, but he realizes that it is highly important to prevent this strike, because it would be the climax to the long series of labor difficulties which have marked his administration. Regarding the President's request, that they do not call a strike until they have conferred with him as a command, the labor leaders have agreed to go to Washington for a conference before they take action. Those familiar with the situation gravely regret that the administration no longer has at its command the services of Chas. P. Neill, who was Labor Commissioner under Roosevelt and Taft and who has greater success in settling labor difficulties than any other man in the country, probably in the world.

Occasionally, however, some one resurrects the subject of nation defense.

It may be that beauty is only skin deep, but the well turned ankle catches the public eye.

Every man is supposed to be the architect of his own fortune, but many of them forget to build.

Nothing is harder to keep than a girl who fancies the other fellow.

Politics, we note, is still blundering along.

Notice to Contractors.

Notice is hereby given that the Board of Commissioners of Rush county, Indiana, will receive sealed bids at the county auditor's office in Rushville, Indiana, up until 2:00 o'clock p. m. on Tuesday, August 29th, 1916, for the construction of the Nathan Arbuckle road in Walker township, Rush county, Indiana. Said road is 13,045 feet in length and to be constructed of stone with a glutin binder. Estimated cost, $17,241.00. Bids must be accompanied by bond as by law required. The Board reserves the right to reject any and all bids. Witness my hand and seal this 7th day of August, 1916.

ROOSEVELT APPLAUDS HUGHES SPEECH

Theodore Roosevelt sat in a box at Carnegie hall when Mr. Hughes delivered his speech of acceptance and vigorously applauded every telling point. The colonel repeatedly arose and bowed in response to the cheers for him and the shouts of "Teddy," "Teddy," "Hurrah for Teddy," and when the meeting adjourned he made the following statement:

"It is an admirable speech, and I wish to call attention to the following points:

"I am particularly pleased with the exposure of the folly, and worse than folly, of Mr. Wilson's Mexican policy and of the way in which this policy has brought humiliation to the United States and disaster to Mexico itself.

"Moreover, I am very glad of the straightforward manner in which Mr. Hughes has shown the ridicule with which Mr. Wilson has covered this nation by the manner in which he allowed foreign powers to gain the impression that, although he used the strongest words in diplomacy, they were not to be taken seriously.

Not Words Which Count.

"As Mr. Hughes said, it is not words, but the strength and resolution behind the words which count. As Mr. Hughes pointed out, there is no doubt that if Mr. Wilson's conduct and action had been such as to make the foreign nations believe that he meant precisely what he said in his 'strict accountability' there would have been no destruction of American lives by the sinking of the Lusitania.

"When Mr. Hughes uses strong words his record shows that they are always backed by strong deeds, and therefore in the enormous majority of cases the use of strong words renders it unnecessary ever to have recourse to strong deeds.

"Again, Mr. Hughes speaks in characteristically straightforward fashion of the outrages committed on munitions plants, and all men, whether citizens of foreign nations or nominal citizens of our own land, who had in any shape or way abetted or condoned those actions can understand that Mr. Hughes, if president, will protect these domestic American interests and punish offenders against them with the fearlessness and thoroughness that he showed in dealing with the powers of evil at Albany.

Brought Nation to Ignominy.

"Just before coming in to listen to Mr. Hughes' just characterization of Mr. Wilson's failure to protect the lives and property of Americans in Mexico and on the high seas I happened to pick up John Fiske's 'Critical Period of American History' and was struck by the following two sentences: 'A government touches the lowest point of ignominy when it confesses its inability to protect the lives and the property of its citizens. A government which has come to this has failed in discharging the primary function of government and forthwith ceases to have any reason for existing.'

"Mr. Hughes has pointed out in his speech with self restraint, but with emphasis, that it is precisely this primary function which Mr. Wilson's administration has failed to discharge and that it is precisely this point of ignominy to which he has reduced the nation over which he is president."

A POLICY OF FIRMNESS AND CONSISTENCY NEEDED.

The nation has no policy of aggression toward Mexico. We have no desire for any part of her territory. We wish her to have peace, stability and prosperity. We shall have to adopt a new policy, a policy of firmness and consistency through which alone we can promote an enduring friendship. We demand from Mexico the protection of the lives and the property of our citizens and the security of our border from depredations. Much will be gained if Mexico is convinced that we contemplate no meddlesome interference with what does not concern us, but that we propose to insist in a firm and candid manner upon the performance of international obligations. To a stable government, appropriately discharging its international duties, we should give ungrudging support. A short period of firm, consistent and friendly dealing will accomplish more than many years of vacillation. —From Mr. Hughes' Speech of Acceptance.

AN ADMINISTRATION TOO CONTENT WITH LEISURELY DISCUSSION.

I do not put life and property on the same footing, but the administration has not only been remiss with respect to the protection of American lives, it has been remiss with respect to the protection of American property and American commerce. It has been too much disposed to be content with leisurely discussion. —From Mr. Hughes' Speech of Acceptance.

WILL CONDUCT AN AUTO CAMPAIGN

Franchise League Will Visit Every
Community in Fight to Gain
Action in Legislature

SPEECHES WILL BE SHORT

(By United Press.)
Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 15.—For fifteen days workers of the Franchise League will conduct an automobile campaign through Indiana, visiting every community. The purpose of the campaign, starting today, is to start the suffrage idea burning in every community in preparation for the coming election and session of the legislature.

Men should be on the look-out for it; they join the crowd at auto to hear the women speak they will be asked to contribute. In order that all may know what to expect, the following excerpt from the Instructions to workers is quoted.

"When your crowd gathers, have your speaker talk not more than half an hour, plain, simple suffrage, suitable for a mixed and uninformed audience. Have others distribute literature and both before and after the speech talk to the people and for future use get a line on those interested. In many cases women will be found who will help towards an organization by arranging a later meeting for the purpose. If there are even a handful of men in the crowd a collection should be taken.

"An hour will suffice to do everything possible in the town. Then go along to the next. If you have time put literature in the mail boxes all along the route. This is a nuisance but creates a great deal of useful talk throughout the countryside.
The campaign will close September 1.

MANY AUTOS ON DISPLAY

Local Motor Car Dealers Now Know
Just What Positions Their Displays
Will Occupy—Interest at Higher
Pitch Than Ever Before.

By Frank B. Bull.

With the closing of space reservations for the fifteenth annual show of the Indianapolis Automobile Trade association will come the drawings for position in the big coliseum. During the past week the local dealers have been coming forward with reservations, and from the number now entered the show will be the largest in number of exhibitors and number of cars in the local show history.

The interest of the general public in the event is at a higher pitch than ever before, according to the various dealers along the row. Every one interested in an automobile, however slightly, seems to be planning to spend at least a part of one day at the show. The number of exhibitors and the large number of cars which will be displayed will make it well worth their while. Owners, prospective buyers and dealers from all parts of the state have signified their intention of visiting the show to see the latest products of the motor car makers' genius.

Will Watch for Changes.

The changes made in this year's models will be highly interesting to the motorist. He will view them with intelligence and appreciation, for the motor car is still advancing. Each year finds it occupying a slightly different place in the scheme of every day living.

Time was when a motor car was looked upon as a means for covering comparatively short distances. Gradually the radius of the motor car became extended through the perfection of its mechanism, until today its zone of activity is confined only by the boundaries of the continent. Anywhere that a man can go on foot a motor car will go on wheels—with the exception only of the little, narrow mountainous desiles. Let us put it this way: Anywhere a man can take his family by any of the means of conveyance heretofore known he can now take them in a motor car. This means that the American family is getting to be more of an out-of-doors institution than at any time since the good old cave-dwelling days, or the tree-dwelling days when our grandfathers hung by their tails and threw coconuts at our grandmothers.

Puts "Red" in Cheeks.

Back to nature is the slogan of the times, and the automobile has made it mean something beyond a mere jargon of words. We are working and playing in a bath of ozone. Gasoline has accomplished the regeneration of our puny little race and is putting the
"red" in our cheeks indelibly.

One of the strong influences in favor of the universal adoption of the motor car is the remarkable success which the builder has achieved in the production of a reasonably good car at a price much lower than any one ever thought possible.

Look up and down automobile row
if you would realize what a miracle the efficiency man has worked. The cars which you can buy today for $1,000 are much better than the big, clumsy ones you used to buy for $3, 000. They look better, run better and are better from every standpoint.

Have you stopped to consider the difference between a man with a motor car and the same man without one?

If you have seen your zone of happiness suddenly multiplied to proportions far beyond what has been its wont; if you have seen old friends forgotten suddenly brought back into your circles of life; if you have seen your good wife suddenly revive her interest in things toward which she long since had grown indifferent, and along with these new delights, if you have seen the ineffable joy which has been hers at the realization that the children for whose welfare she is responsible have suddenly acquired health and that playful abandon that means all to child living—if you have experienced these things, then you know the difference between owning a motor car and doing without one.
It means, these days, the difference between happiness and despair.

These days, too, there is a wheelbase for every purse and the fact that a man is not a millionaire need not keep him in the go-without class. The little fellows with their good four cylinders will get you out into the open just as surely as will the big transcontinental touring car, and they are cheaper in the long run than interurban fare. Incidentally, when you ride in your own motor car you are riding in a private car—free from the germs and gyrations of the rabble
—a motor car that is yours, all yours
in every sense of the word.

The Indianapolis show, which is to be held at the coliseum the week of Feb. 23, will bring home to you with startling force just what the builder of motor cars has done for you.

FUNERALS BY AEROPLANE MAY BE ATTEMPTED SOON

Biplanes to Take Place of Hearses if Plans of Undertaker Materialize.

Funerals in the air are to be the next innovation to which the aeroplane is to be turned. To be in style one must make arrangements to have the mortal remains carried on a swift and somber hued biplane to the final resting place, and the first aerial cortege will probably be seen in New York within a comparatively short time.

So announced the head of a funeral company, at a dinner of the Aeronautical Society of America the other evening. He added that he intended to be the first to enter the coming demand, and his new establishment is to be fitted with a landing stage for aircraft on the roof and all conveniences for mourners who wish to make the trip.

"They laughed when we first talked of motor funerals to supersede the old hearses," he said, "and they may laugh at this. But it's coming, and I'm going to be the first in the new line."

A. Leo Stevens, the dirigible aviator, is working on the plan, and arrangements are being made with an aeroplane construction company for the services of several weight carrying machines until the company can furnish a flotilla of its own. Frederick W. Barker, president of the society, endorsed the plan by remarking that "it was another of the revolutionary plans for utilizing the aeroplane that, while startling, should be perfectly feasible."

TOMMY TELLS OF WAR.

Paints Vivid Picture of Suffering of Men in Trenches.

"Mix heaven and hell; add earth, occasional glimpses of sky; much blood, continuously flowing; flesh, almost beyond recognition as human flesh, and above all and with all, multitudinous modicums of mud, and you begin to envisage war."

In these words Henry Logan, who was introduced as "a plain English Tommie from the trenches," endeavored to convey to members of the Thursday Morning Current Events club of Philadelphia a picture of the great conflict that is convulsing Europe at present.

The battle of Loos furnished illustrations for the spectacle that Private Logan sought to convey. In this engagement 1,250 men of the battalion to which he was attached were ordered to charge by an officer who later faced a court-martial as the result of his stupidity.

"In a minute," Logan said, "we were tangled up in the enemy's entanglements. Of those 1,250 who went in fifty got back to the trenches. I was one of the fortunate few, but I was temporarily blind, and later I was discharged as unfit for further service. But if I was blind I was not deaf, and the moans of those who lay out there between the lines for the next two days will never be forgotten so long as memory remains to me."

FIFTY YEARS A PURSER.

Thomas Kinsey of the St. Paul to Retire After Return Trip.

Thomas Kinsey, purser of the American line St. Paul, will retire from the sea on his return to England, when he will have completed his eleven hundredth trip across the Atlantic.

Kinsey is about seventy-five years old and holds the record for length of service with transatlantic lines. He has been a purser for more than fifty years, during which time he has visited nearly every country on the globe and has encircled the world several times. He will retire to his home in Southampton, where Mrs. Kinsey is awaiting him.

Statistics on Millionaires.
Dr. Russell H. Conwell of Boston states that he has been investigating 3,043 American millionaires and finds that all but twenty of them started life as poor boys and all but forty have contributed largely to their communities, but that only one rich man's son in seventeen dies rich.

GREAT REPUBLICAN CLUB ORGANIZES FOR CAMPAIGN

Columbia Club of Indianapolis Lays Plans for Active Work in State-National Campaign

SPECIAL COMMITTEE CHOSEN

Arthur R. Robinson and Ben R. Inman Will Supervise Work of Organizing Membership Throughout State.

Indianapolis.—A monster canvas sign, 12 feet by 50 feet, extending entirely across the front of the Columbia Club and bearing the words, "OUR TICKET — HUGHES AND FAIRBANKS" and a large pennant

bearing the same inscription floating from the flag staff on the top of the club house, is the initial step in which the Columbia Club, as a Republican organization, enters into the present campaign with a determination to render real service to the Republican party.

Plans have been perfected whereby the club is to be made a powerful factor in the political activities of the state and nation during the campaign. The entire membership of the club, more than three thousand strong, representing every county in the state, is to be organized for specific work in the interests of the Republican state and national tickets.

A central organization composed of Columbia Club members, and known as the "Columbia Club Campaign Committee," has been perfected to have general supervision of the work of organizing the club membership throughout the state into an active working force to co-operate with the regular state, district and county organizations in carrying forward the work of the campaign. This organization has been perfected by the selection of the following officers: Arthur R. Robinson, chairman; B. R. Inman, secretary, and Gwynn F. Patterson, treasurer. In addition to these, a district vice-chairman has been chosen in each of the thirteen congressional districts, as follows:

- First District.—Clifford T. Curry, Evansville.
 - Second District.—Thomas H. Adams, Vincennes.
 - Third District.—Charles W. Lanz, Bedford.
 - Fourth District.—W. C. Oliver, Franklin.
 - Fifth District.—Job Freeman, Terre Haute.
 - Sixth District.—R. N. Elliott, Gonnerville.
 - Seventh District.—Eben H. Wolcott, Indianapolis.
 - Eighth District.—Harry Kitzelman, Muncie.
 - Ninth District.—Everett Neal, Noblesville.
 - Tenth District.—Warren T. McCray, Kentland.
 - Eleventh District.—J. O. Batchelor, Marion.
 - Twelfth District.—Allen J. Vessey, Ft. Wayne.
 - Thirteenth District.—Charles A. Carfield, South Bend.
- Headquarters for the committee have been established on the fifth floor of the Columbia Club. The large assembly room will be turned into a "work shop" for the use of the committee. Private rooms will be provided by temporary partitions for the use of the committee, candidates and party leaders.

During the last year the Columbia Club has increased its membership from one thousand to over three thousand. It now enjoys the distinction of being the largest Republican Club in the United States. Every county in Indiana, as well as more than a score of states, is represented on the membership list.

The plan to place the club on a practical working basis in the interests of the Republican party is meeting with the hearty approval of the members all over the state. It is said that complaints have been made in the past to the effect that the Columbia Club was a Republican club in name only. It is now proposed to make the organization available for practical service in behalf of the party.

The central organization of the "Columbia Club Campaign Committee" will organize auxiliaries in each of the thirteen congressional districts. It is said that strong organizations of Columbia Club members will be perfected in at least fifty of the ninety-two counties in the state. Every large center of population in the state is to be represented with an active working organization, affiliating with the central organization, and all working under the direction of the regular state organization.

During the next few weeks, Arthur R. Robinson and B. R. Inman, chairman and secretary respectively of the "Columbia Club Campaign Committee," will visit a number of the principal cities of the state and will effect local organizations among the members of the club. They will be assisted in this work by the several district vice-chairmen of the central organization. Personal letters will be sent out to the club members informing them of the time and place of holding the meeting in their particular counties.

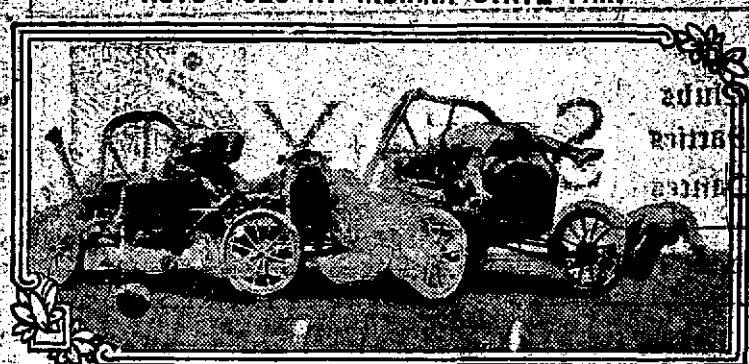

The co-operation of the entire membership throughout the state is requested in perfecting the state-wide organization among the club members.

Inquiries concerning the work contemplated, addressed to B. R. Inman, Secretary of the Columbia Club, Indianapolis, Ind., will receive prompt attention.

FACTIONAL DIFFERENCES HAVE BEEN FORGOTTEN

That the reunion of the two factions of the Republican party in Indiana is no longer a theory is becoming more and more apparent each day. The Columbia Club at Indianapolis, which now bears the distinction of being the largest Republican club in the United States, has proven a valuable party asset in bringing the two wings of the party into harmonious relationship. Among the two thousand new members which have been added to the club roster during the past year are a large number of former Progressives. These men will give enthusiastic and active support to the Republican cause in the present campaign.

AUTO POLO AT INDIANA STATE FAIR

Polo played by men who use automobiles, instead of ponies or roller skates, will be one of the conspicuous outdoor features of the Indiana State Fair the week of Sept. 4. Auto polo abounds in thrills for the spectators from start to finish. A large light ball is used, with the same kind of driving mallets as are seen in the pony games. The light cars skim over the field at full speed, head-on collisions and sideswipes being frequent, and the wonder of the game is that any of the players escape with their lives.

Hankinson's teams will play the games at the Indiana fair. They are world famous, having appeared at eighteen of America's largest expositions and state fairs, and they have toured Japan, China, the Philippines and other countries of the Orient and far East.

INDIANA STATE FAIR RACES WEEK OF SEPT. 4

The harness races at the Indiana state fair will have the usual large number of starters and the sport will be of superior quality in which many famous trotting and pacing stables will be represented by their best talent. The program follows:

for three-year-olds, purse $3,000; 2:12 pace; purses $1,000 each.

Wednesday, Sept. 6—2:20 trot; Western Horseman trotting stake for three-year-olds, purse, $5,000; 2:04 trot; 2:06 pace; purse, $1,000 each.

Thursday, Sept. 7—2:18 trot; 2:20 pace; 2:12 trot; 2:20 pace; purse in each race, $1,000.

PROSPECTS FOR APPLES ARE POOR

Crop Will Not be One-Fourth That of Last Year it is Estimated

by Orchardists

CIDER WILL BE VERY SCARCE

Only Scientifically Treated Trees Will Yield Well—Some Orchards About Lost

The apple crop of 1915 will probably hold the record in Rush county for some time, according to local orchardists who say there will be very few apples this year. By the same token, apple cider will not be so plentiful this year. In fact, it is stated, most fruits will be a luxury in Rush county.

The apple crop has advanced far enough so that orchardists as well as farmers who have an orchard but pay little attention to it can estimate just about what the yield will be. Their view is anything but optimistic. It is doubtful if the crop will be one-fourth of that of last year.

Many men who ran cider mills last year are this year not planning to start their mills at all. They say that there is not enough apples to pay even setting up the mill. One cider mill owner visited other counties in the state to find what prospects are and learned that elsewhere the prospects for an apple crop are the same as in Rush county.

This is not agreeable news, but it is the straight truth and the people may as well make up their minds to accept it. The scarcity of the fruit will mean, of course, high prices. There will be no such thing as going out in the country this fall and getting all apples you want for from twenty-five to fifty cents a bushel. Apples will be apples this autumn. They will taste of money, anybody may be sure of that.

There are comparatively few orchards in the county that will yield anything approximating a normal crop. Those orchards that have been scientifically treated—that have been fertilized and sprayed—will bring forth a fair supply of fruit, but not even they will approach the abundance of last year's yield. The neglected orchards, in most cases, will not have enough apples to justify the owners in taking the time to pick them.

The experience as regards apples will not be a novel one in Rush county. It has long been a case of either feast or famine locally with this fruit. Only the scientific orchardists—and they unfortunately are not numerous—have solved the problem of growing a fair supply of apples every year.

The apple crop of 1915 will probably hold the record for a long time. There was scarcely an apple tree in the country that was not loaded with fruit. Somehow, conditions were exactly suited to apples throughout the spring summer and fall. Not a thing hurt the crop from the time the trees were in bloom until the apples were ready for the barrel. Never in all the history of Rush county were its orchards as resplendent as they were last autumn. All are going to be reminded of it this fall—the scene will be different.

IF YOU ARE A SICK WOMAN

Thousands of women suffered just as you are suffering and in letters, over their own signatures state they have been made well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Why don't you try it?—(Adv.)

ENCAMPMENT WILL NOT BE HELD HERE

Patriarch Militants Meeting Called Off Locally Because Crowd Couldn't be Guaranteed

The annual encampment of the Patriarch Militants, the military branch of the Odd Fellows lodge, which was to have been held here the first three days of next week, has been called off because the Patriarch Militants would not guarantee a crowd in proportion to the amount of money which Franklin lodge No. 35, I. O. O. F. had intended to spend for the entertainment of the visitors at the proposed encampment.

The encampment will be held at some point in the northern part of the state, it was stated by a member of Franklin lodge, but he did not know then where of the city. A committee of five members of Franklin lodge went to Indianapolis on May 16 to confer with a committee from the Patriarch Militants and it was agreed then that the encampment should be held here. At that time the Indiana grand lodge was in session.
